MULDOON PUT IN CHARGE

The Bishop Has Been Appointed Overseer of Chicago See Pending Action by Rome.

DEAD PRELATE'S BODY LIES IN STATE

Funeral of Archbishop Feehan to Take Place at Holy Name Cathedral Thursday Morning.

Bishop John Lancaster Spalding the senior suffragan of the Chicago archdiocese, yesterday appointed Bishop P. J. Muldoon administrator of the Chicago see, immediately notifying Rome of his action. This places Bishop Muldoon in full charge of the affairs and functions vacated by the death of Archbishop Feehan. It was the natural procedure of canonical law, and the appointment was not unexpected.

The last rites over the remains of the dead prelate began today at 2 o'clock. Nearly 200 priests of the diocese assembled at the archepiscopal palace, and at 3 o'clock they moved in solemn possession as an escort to the remains on their removal to the Cathedral of the Holy Name.

The body will lie in state until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. In the meantime there will be a constant guard of honor from the various uniformed Catholic organizations, such as the Seventh Regiment, I. N. G., the Clan na-Gael Guards, the Catholic Knights of America, the Catholic Order of Foresters and others.

Indications point that there will be more members of the Catholic hierarcy present than have ever been gathered in Chicago at one time. Bishop John Lancaster Spaulding will be pontifical celebrant of the mass. Archbishop Ryan of Philadelphia will preach the sermon, and Vicar General Fitzsimmons will be the assistant priest.

Cardinal Gibbons, assisted by Bishops Spalding, Janssen and Ryan of Alton, will close the cremony by giving the absolution, blessing the casket and the remains. Among the other notable men of the church who will be present are Archbishop Ireland of St. Paul, Bishop E. J. Dunne of Dallas, Bishop Burke of St. Joseph, Mo., Bishop McGavick of Chicago, Bishop Alderding of Fort Wayne, Bishop Donoghue of Indianapolis, Bishop Scannell of Omaha and Rev. Fr. Deshon, C. S. P., superior of the Paulists.

By noon today nearly every church in Chicago was draped in mourning, and Bishop Muldoon has expressed the wish that every Catholic in the diocese shall wear some emblem of this kind until after the funeral. His request goes so far as to ask the women of the church to refrain from wearing ostentatious colors on the day of the funeral.

It is anticipated that there will be a tremendous crush of people in the vicinity of the cathedral upon the morning of the funeral. Rev. James M. Scanlan of St. John's church will have charge of police arrangements, and has already had a c[illegible]ce with Chief O'Neill, who pro[illegible] furnish all the men necessary f[illegible]day.

Young People Have Lawn Party.

Miss Lillian Morse gave a lawn party last evening at her home in Bluff Park for a number of her young friends and the balmy evening made the occasion a delightful one.

A supper was served at 6:30 on the beautiful lawn after which various pleasing games were enjoyed during the evening hours. The guests present were: Misses Vera Smith, Avis Dement, Ruth Smith, Mary Chandler, Laura Neil, Pauline Reynolds, Helen Stephens, Theressa Morris and Josephine Morris; Messrs. Will Schuck, Albert Burnham, Frank Lord, Earl Buck, Carroll Hall, Dick Dement, Berney Schuler, Gordon Utley, Jacob Snyder, Seila Wooding and Bert Preston.

Presented With Silk Tile.

At the meeting last evening of Dixon Post No. 299, M. M. Avery and G. G. Messer were appointed aides-de-camp on the staff of the department commander.

As a mark of their esteem the members presented to the post commander, Rev. W. H. Post, a glossy silk tile. The presentation speech was made by L. W. Mitchell in his usual happy style, Rev. Post responding feelingly.

Board Is in Session.

The Board of Review, consisting of E. W. Smith, chairman, Lemuel Bourne of Amboy and James Kirby of Steward, is now in session at the court house to review all claims for readjustment of taxes.

Late Telegrams

Corn Corner Broken.

Special to THE TELEGRAPH:

CHICAGO, July 15.—It is the general opinion that the corner on July corn which has been holding its own here for some time is finally broken by the bears, assisted by the good weather and favorable crop reports. Corn dropped gradually from 80 to 69 cents today causing considerable panic. The arrival of large supplies of corn by rail helped the bears.

King Edward Travels.

Special to THE TELEGRAPH:

PORTSMOUTH, England, July 15—King Edward arrived here today from London and he stood the trip well. He will go on board of the royal yacht "Victoria and Albert" for a sea voyage.

A BAD FIRE NEAR HARMON

House Owned by Frank Billmyer Burned to the Ground Sunday.

Sunday afternoon at about 2 o'clock the house of Frank Billmyer one mile north and three miles east of Harmon was totally destroyed by fire. The fire was started from a defective chimney and gained headway so rapidly that the building could not be saved. Nearly all the furniture was saved. It has not been learned whether or not the house is on the farm formerly owned by J. P. Lyon and sold by him to Mr. Billmyer.

Among English Nobility.

The Chicago Tribune prints a large picture of Mrs. Frank Morris Avery, a cousin of George A. Morris of Dixon, as she appeared in an elegant court dress recently at Buckingham palace, England. Mrs. Avery and her mother are to be guests of the Duke and Duchess of Newcastle this week at a house party.

Dr. Ives Loses a Valuable Horse.

Dr. C. H. Ives lost a horse Sunday evening which he valued highly on account of its trustworthiness. Friday evening he was driving in Nachusa Township to make a call at the Burkett farm when the horse ran into a hole and sunk to its knees in what appeared to be quick sand. In floundering to get out the horse strained the tendions of its hind legs and broke a blood vessel.

The doctor returned home with the horse and vetinary aid was called, but the horse died Sunday night.

WHY WE PUSH IT.

We do a lot of talking each summer about the Wonder Ice Cream Freezer.

Now if it wasn't worth pushing we would not push it.

The fact that we're talking about the Wonder again this year is evidence that we have a worthy article. We sold a lot of them last summer. Those freezers had to give good satisfaction last summer or we wouldn't sell many this summer. And they did give satisfaction. We can recommend them.

We have Wonders in several sizes—at several prices. $1.50 to $5.00.

Things Which are Happening to Make History—The Haps and Mishaps of The Country's People.

BRADFORD.

July 14: Reinhard Aschenbrenner was in Amboy one day last week on business.

Henry Gross was in Franklin Grove one day last week.

Next Sunday afternoon Rev. McCrea from Ashton will preach in the Bradford church in English. Rev. Schuster will go to Nebraska for a two weeks visit.

Last week was an unlucky week for some of Bradford people. While Jacob Wendle was chopping an old tree down the ax glanced and went into his foot. He will be laid up for a few weeks; and when Henry Vauple started out to cut grass Wednesday morning and had the sickle bar nearly down, the horses started to run away, and he got a large cut on one leg. Had the machine been in gear it would killed him. Peter Gallisaith was going to load up hogs Thursday afternoon and was going to take out the back end gate. His horses ran away and Mrs. Wm. Hoffman was going to H. W. Krugs. She had the baby in the baby cab. On seeing the team, she turned out the way; but the horses struck both her and the baby carriage, dragging the baby about seven rods, one hind wagon wheel passing over her. She was unconscious for three hours. Dr. Petersmeyer was called for as quickly as possible. The baby is resting nicely at this writing.

KINGDOM.

July 14.—Mrs. Wetherbee received word of the recent death of Mr. Wetherbee's brother, Dr. Isaac Wetherbee of Boston, Mass.

Miss Maggie Gibson will spend her vacation with her aunt near Ashton.

Miss Carrie Kenneth of Dixon visited over Sunday with Myra Bachman.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Senneff were Franklin visitors Sunday.

Mrs. W. T. Brink and daughters and Mrs. Cahill of Dixon were Kingdom callers Saturday.

Jerome Gilman has a new rubber-tired surrey.

Grandeurs of Peak and Chasm.

The natural attractions of Colorado are by no means confined to her mineral springs resorts, her splendid parks, nor to her beautiful mountain lakes. In whatever direction the traveler may choose by rail, if he go to the mountains, his journey is a succession of glory scenery, varying in the characteristics of placid beauty, grotesque ruggedness, and awe-inspiring grandeur Up the canons, by heavy grades and difficult curves, are studendous walls rising perpendicularly or gradually sloping back toward the greater hills, and yet again leaning forward above the chasm, as if threatening to come crumbling down, projecting great rocks that hang suspended over the train as it glides smoothly, it is a panorama of wonders and grandeurs such as belong only to the Rocky Mountains.

To enable persons to reach Colorado resorts, the Union Pacific has placed in effect during the summer months Very Low Rates.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoon. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials

Could Not Lie Down, Sit Up or Stand Without Experiencing the Most Excruciating Pain.

PAINES CELERY COMPOUND

After the Failures of Physicians, Special Medicines and Electric Battery, Banishes Pain and Tortures and Rastores Health.

In the ranks of sick, tortured and diseased suffers, many men and women have become hopeless because of the failures of physicians and their medicines.

We would have all such dejected and despairing mortals take comfort this very day. We would impress upon them the blessed truth that Paine's Celery Compound is abundantly able to save and cure even at the eleventh hour. Paine's Celery Compound accomplishes its life-saving work for the old and young when all other medical treatment fails. A multitude of people have furnished strong and incontrovertible testimony in support of the statement that "Paine's Celery Compound makes sick people well." Mr. John W. Boyd, of Mishawaka, Ind., refers to his own case as follows.—

"Last winter I was taken down with a very severe attack of nervous and muscular rheumatism, so that I could not lie down, sit up or stand without the most excruiating pain. I was all the time under the care of two of the best phicians of the place, but I did not improve. I took different rheumatic cures and used an electric battery a half hour each day for ten days without any relief. Finally I concluded to try Paine's Celery Compound and to my surprise after using one half of a bottle, I was able to get out, and before I used the whole bottle I went to work and have worked every day since. I have gained 20 pounds in weight and am feeling first rate."

HARMON.

July 14—Geo. P. Ross and his daughter took the train last week to make a visit at his old home near Boston, Massachusetts, where he expects to visit the scenes of his childhood.

The farmers were busy last week plowing their corn. They have been kept back by the rains. Some of them have commenced to make hay. The hay is said to yield well.

Joseph Keifer cut his rye last week; it was good and was well filled. Oats are coming to turn. They will soon be ready for the reaper. They look good and if nothing happens to them the yeld will be good.

W. D. Parker had a man here from Amboy painting the new barn on his farm.

The new cement walk in front of the business houses was finished last week; it being nine feet wide, makes a fine appearance. There will be more put in. One will be put in at the Catholic church from the church out to the road.

Some of the farmers were shelling and drawing their corn to market last week.

Several new binders were sold and taken out last week.

Wm. Long and his men have been busy building barns and cornerib for the farmers.

Dr. Lyons, the Rock Falls dentist, comes to our town every week to do dental work.

Wm. Purcell, who is at work with Price Bros., veterinary dentists, came home last Friday to stay over Sunday.

Mr. Neal had a sick spell last week. He is troubled with heart disease.

Fruit seems very scarce here; no apples to speak of, and small fruit did very poorly, as it was too wet.

GUARDS IN CAMP LIFE

What Is Going on Among the Citizen Soldiers Now at Camp Lincoln.

STRIKE HITS THE STATE CAPITAL

That One at Chicago Does—Arbitration Board Gets Busy—Civilization in Egypt—Items.

Springfield, Ills., July 15.—Sunday was visitors' day at Camp Lincoln, and the soldiers of the Second brigade were excused from much of the routine of camp life in order to entertain their guests. Excursion trains from many points throughout central and southern Illinois brought over 5,000 visitors to the city, and the majority of these spent the day at the camp ground. Company inspection, conducted early in the morning by both regiments, and evening parade constituted the duties of the day, and the remainder of the time the soldiers were permitted to while away as they chose. Religious services were held in the morning, the chaplains of the Fourth and Fifth regiments conducting a joint service.

Governor's Visit to the Camp.

Yesterday was spent by the Fourth regiment upon the rifle range. The Fifth regiment devoted the day to field manoeuvers and drills. Schools for commissioned and non-commissioned officers were conducted by the Fifth regiment in the afternoon. Tomorrow has been designated as Governor's day. Governor Yates will be received at camp with the usual formalities, and will review the brigade. Governor and Mrs. Yates will entertain the staff and regimental officers at the executive mansion one evening this week.

Arbitration Board Goes to Chicago.

Springfield, Ills., July 15.—O. C. Gelger, Ashley and W. A. Mathis, of Clinton, members, and J. McGann Davis, secretary, of the state board of arbitration, went to Chicago last night to join Chairman Job in further efforts to adjust the freight handlers' strike. They will remain on the ground until the strike is settled, or until it is fully demonstrated that there is absolutely no hope of settlement through their mediation. The board has been so successful in adjusting strikes during the past few months that it is the hope of members that the trouble at Chicago may be speedily settled.

Delegates to the Mining Congress.

Springfield, Ills., July 15.—Governor Yates has appointed the following delegates from Illinois to the International Mining Congress at Butte, Mont., Sept. 1-5: M. N. Taylor, L. P. Friestedt, T. A. Lemmon, Robert Mather, William B. Brown, P. H. Donnelly and Clarence Parker, Chicago; George N. Black, Stuart Brown, William D. Ryan, David Ross, Frank Godley, James Morris, Springfield; Robert Fairbairn and John E. Williams, Streator; Michael Kelly, W. R. Jewell and Reuben Russell, Danville; E. T. Bent, Oglesby; George Strebel, Virden; Geo. E. Simpson, Mount Olive; James L. Frazier, Peoria; R. C. Davis, Rushville; Thomas J. Armtrong, Marion; James Thompson, Carterville.

Effect of the Strike Is Felt.

Springfield, Ills., July 15.—Merchants here who depend upon Chicago houses for their supplies are beginning to feel the results of the strike of freight handlers in Chicago. Orders are confined to what is absolutely needed. In many instances the goods are coming by express, the house in Chicago paying the charges.

CIVILIZATION DOWN IN EGYPT

Brutal Treatment of a Negro Family by Scions of Good Families.

Belleville, Ills., July 15.—Joseph Corbridge, William Burnes, Fred Ehring and Walter and Ferdinand Shaw, all of good families of O'Fallon, are in the county jail charged with the attempt to kill Abraham Grant, a well-to-do colored resident of O'Fallon, assaulting his wife, and inflicting injuries upon their 2-year-old child, which are alleged to have caused its death.

On the night of June 20 Grant and his wife were made the victims of an assault at the hands of a crowd of young men who visited their lonely cabin in the woods at a late hour. The woman was shamefully treated by some of the young men in the crowd, and for a time her life was endangered as a result of her treatment. Her infant was mistreated and died, it is said, as the result.

Jap Took the Honors.

Bloomington, Ills., July 15.—Much to the chagrin of the sixteen members of the first year law class of the Illinois Wesleyan university in this city, a young Japanese nobleman, named Takahaski Misaya, from Tokio, reported to be immensely wealthy, won first honors, being all but perfect in the six subjects of Blackstone, Parsons on Contracts and Reynolds on Evidence. His respective markings were 99, 98 and 98. In his few years residence here Takahashi has secured a fine command of the language and speaks it with the grace of a native-born.

Woman Killed in a Runaway.

Cairo, Ills., July 15.—In a runaway at Villa Ridge Mrs. Edith Ellis, of this city, was killed, and her mother, Mrs. Amarala Martin, injured. In company with Maynard Parker, son of L. P. Parker, and Miss Winifred Ellis, daughter of Mrs. Ellis, they drove to Villa Ridge to visit friends. In descending a steep hill Mrs. Ellis and her mother became alarmed at the speed of the team and sprang from the buggy.

Joins the Salvation Army.

Centralia, Ills., July 15.—To escape preaching in the restrictions of a creed the Rev. L. W. Hostetter, a Baptist minister of the neighborhood, has joined the Salvation Army. The brigade that attracted Hostetter came here six weeks ago. He went much to the meetings.

Useful Inquiry Set on Foot.

Urbana, Ills., July 15.—The University of Illinois agricultural department has instituted a movement among the farmers of the state to try to determine the practical benefit, if any, to the farmers to the detasseling of corn.

THE PEORIA EXCURSION.

Dixon Merchants and Their Clerks Will Take a Holiday.

In fact, the whole town will take a holiday. On Wednesday, July 23rd, the Dixon merchants will close their stores and join in an excursion to Peoria and ask everybody far and near to come and help make the day a joyful one. Three sdecial trains of ten coaches each and a big steamer and barge have been chartered. Trains leave at 5:30, 6:00 and 6:30 and the C. & N. W. promise to make the run of 91 miles over the new road in three hours. Returning, the trains leave Peoria at 6:30, 7:00 and 8.00. Fare for round trip $1.50. Upon the arrival of the last train the steamer and barge will leave the dock for a run up the lake, returning at 1 p. m., leaving all the afternoon to see the city. The Watson-Plummer band and an orchestra for dancing will be aboard the boats. Boat tickets 25 cents. Dancing free. Lunch can be had on boats.

This will be the best excursion to be run out of Dixon this year. Arrangements have been made for 2,000 people.

SAYS FORBES IS WRONG.

Charles L. Knodle States 17-Year Locusts Are Not Due.

There is considerable discussion in the newspapers and scientific bulletin in regard to the time of appearance of the seventeen-year-locust. Charles L. Knodle, formerly of Dixon; sends the following statement to THE TELEGRAPH:

ELGIN, Ill., July 14, 1902.

EDITOR TELEGRAPH:

There are some persons who still have an idea that the locusts are coming this year. You can assure them that they will not come ahead of schedule time (unless they are dug up) despite Prof. Forbe's statement that they should be here now. They will not be here before 1905, and don't forget it, and you will hear from them six weeks earlier in the season than this. C. L. KNODLE.

President Blanchard at Congregational Church.

Next Sabbath President Charles A. Blanchard of Wheaton College, Wheaton, Ill., will preach at the West Side Congregational church of Dixon, both morning and evening. President Blanchard is one of best known Congregationalist ministers of Illinois, as well as one of the most prominent educators of our day and we who have heard him preach or lecture will appreciate our privilege and will not fail to urge our friends to hear this splendid preacher.

The service at the Congregational church last Sabbath were especially helpful. The Band of Promise pronounced the best held for some time. It was indeed inspring to hear the children and older boys and girls prompt each other in filling in all the details of the life of David.

The sermon Sunday night was listened to by a most appreciative audience of about one hundred twenty-five and the many words of appreciation from sincere and inteligent friends could not help but assure Rev. Zellas he had spoken a message for God.

West Brooklyn Old Settler Dead.

John Derr, father of John D. Derr of this city, died at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon at his home in West Brooklyn, in which township he had resided for almost forty years. NEROMUS BEGINS SUIT

Asks $150 Damages From His Manager, H. M. Shoub.

The latest feature of the bull fight in Clinton the Fourth is a damage suit. Neromus or Will Clark has sued his manager, H. M. Shoub of Chicago for $150 because the night performance was not given in Clinton. The negro claims that Mr. Shoub failed to keep his contract with him and asks the above amount of damages.

Shoub is in Clinton in order to get evidence that the people were dissatisfied, and thereby prove that Neromus failed to keep his contract for satisfactory performance. He says that the chairman of the committee on amusements advised him to leave out the evening performance for the reason that it would have been impossible to satisfy the public. Mr. Shoub feels confident that he will win his suit. It is needless to say that Neromus is no longer under his management. He is recuperating his health in Chicago.

Tracing Responsibility.

A woman bought a cloth skirt ready made of a reputable firm. After wearing it for several days she discovered damaged spots in the front breadth. She took it back to the shop where she had bought it and was told that the error would be cared for. "It is not our fault, however," said the foreman, "and we will have to send it to the factory from which we bought it. It is up to them to make it good."

"And upon whom will they fall back?"

"On the manufacturer from whom they bought the cloth."

"And he?"

"Well, I suppose there would be no one but the sheep for him to blame, so he will have to bear the loss."—New York Press.

The Curious Crowd.

"They're raising a safe into the tenth story next door."

"Yes?"

"Yes, and there are a lot of people down below who don't seem to realize that the safe side of the street is the side directly opposite to the safe's side."—Philadelphia Catholic Standard.

Energy.

Strong impulses are but another name for energy. Energy may be turned to bad uses, but more good may always be made of an energetic nature than of an indolent and impassive one.

THE RAINBOW.

Lasting Superstitions That Hang About the Arch of Promise.

"Rainbow gold" used to be the warp and woof of many a childish dream. The pot of treasure buried "where the end of the bow touches the ground" has been searched for by trusting children again and again. The present generation of childhood is so wise, however, that such gentle fantasies are apt to be received with scorn.

There are many lasting superstitions connected with the arch of promise, however. In many countries the rainbow is spoken of as being a great bent pump or siphon tube, drawing water from the sea by mechanical means.

In parts of Russia, in the Don country and also in Moscow and vicinity, the rainbow is known by a word which is equivalent to "the bent water pipe." In nearly all Slavonic dialects it is known by terms signifying "the cloud siphon," and in Hungary it is "the pump," "Noah's pump" or "God's pump."

In the province of Charkov, Russia, the rainbow is said to drain the wells, and to prevent this many are provided with heavy, tight fitting stone platforms. In the province of Saratov the bow is said to be under the control of three angels, one of whom pumps the water, the second "feeds" the clouds, and the third sends the rain.

The Malayan natives call it by the same name that they do the banded water cobra, only that they add "boba," meaning double headed, the equivalent in English being "the double headed water snake."

The Turkish children are told that if they can touch the rainbow they will at once have silver heads, eyes of ruby and teeth of gold. In Greece they say that the person so unfortunate as to stumble over the end of the rainbow will have his or her sex changed instantly.

The One Man Right.

Copernicus was at one time alone in his belief that the earth and planets revolved round the sun. Galilei was right when he asserted that the moon revolves round the earth, and so was Columbus when he asserted the possibility of sailing round the world. But in all these cases it is possible that others, unknown to fame, may have shared their beliefs.

There are two instances in which one man was absolutely right and, so far as we know, all the rest of mankind wrong. One was that of Newton, the discoverer of the principle of universal gravitation, and the other was that of John Harvey, who was absolutely alone in his conviction that the blood circulates through the veins and arteries of living animals. In this instance so universal was the disbelief that his fellow doctors nicknamed him "the quack," or "circulator," and the word survives to this day as the name of one who makes a profession of medical knowledge which he does not possess.

Hived Swarm of Bees.

James Blackburn yesterday afternoon hived a fine swarm of bees which he noticed clinging to the branch of a tree on Monroe avenue.

HIS WIFE'S TRIUMPH.

A Memento That Was Inspiring to John Richard Green.

It has been the fate of many men of letters to have ill health bearing them down as they struggled on toward literary achievements. Thus beset in recent times were Stevenson, Richard Jeffries and J. R. Green. Each of these, it happened, had a high hearted wife to keep him up, even to help him with the actual labor of writing. "The Life and Letters of J. R. Green" show forth a great and sweet man. They show, too, a wife whose sympathy and fortitude helped to make his accomplishment possible.

In copying the vast amount of manuscript of her husband's books Mrs. Green contracted writer's cramp and was forced to stop using her right hand. This looked like a final obstacle in the way of the invalid, who did much of his thinking in bed and could not write himself. But Mrs. Green set to work at once learning to write with her left hand.

One of her first practice pages, which she was about to destroy with the rest, her husband took quietly and put in his pocket. Years afterward, when ill health seemed unbearable and in discouragement he felt that he could not work, he used to take out that piece of paper, a living record of his wife's triumph over difficulty. When he saw the painful, patient strokes by which Mrs. Green had learned to write with her left hand, he could work on with something near to inspiration.

Sausages Made While You Wait.

The man who ruined a sausage maker's trade by walking into his shop with a sackful of dead cats and dumping the contents down on the counter now finds a rival—albeit an unintentional one—in the person of a London waiter. The latter worthy, being asked by a customer for sausages, replied that there was none left; but, being of an obliging disposition, he went on to say that if the gentleman did not mind waiting for a few minutes some should be obtained for him—meaning, of course, that they should be sent out for. The customer having signified his willingness to wait, the waiter proceeded to the culinary department to give the necessary instructions, but on arriving there he had the misfortune to step on the tail of a dog which belonged to one of the kitchen attendants. The injured animal immediately let out a series of agonized yelps, whereupon the customer, being evidently a man of imaginative mind, turned pale and left the restaurant hurriedly.—Pearson's.

Trousers In College.

As late as 1812 students in Trinity and St. John's colleges, Cambridge, were prohibited from wearing pantaloons, or trousers, in chapel. Oxford men had already fought for and won the right to wear trousers. These were first allowed in Oxford in 1810, when Rigaud was proctor, and his relaxation of discipline gave great offense to the dons. On Nov. 25, 1815, William Phelps, scholar of Corpus and afterward archdeacon of Carlisle, writes, "I have been invited once to the bachelors' common room, where I found all wore black pantaloons and stockings and white waistcoats." Evidently the discovery caused him some surprise or he would not have thought it worthy of record. Dean Burgon relates in his "Lives of Twelve Great Men" that as late as 1847 the Rev. Edward Miles Rudd as senior fellow of Oriel used to appear at the college "gaudy" in black shorts.

So Thoughtful of Her.

Young Husband (picking up bundle from table)—What have you here, love? Something for me?

Young Wife—Yes, dear. I went downtown this morning expressly to buy them for you. I hope you'll like them.

Young Husband—Like them? Of course I'll like them if you bought them. But what are they?

Young Wife—They're nightcaps, dear. I heard you tell Sparkles this morning that you'd go down to the club this evening with him and wet a nightcap, and I made up my mind right away that I'd save you that trouble by seeing that you had some in the house. Just open the parcel and try them on, won't you, love?—Exchange.

Most Important.

"I thought you said this was a life or death case?" growled the sleepy druggist, who had been awakened at 3 a. m. by a man who wanted a two cent stamp.

"So it is," declared the man; "so it is. I've got to mail this letter to my wife at once that she may get it in time to postpone her return home long enough for me to have a new mirror put in the parlor and the hall repapered. Some of the boys spent the evening with me tonight."—Judge.

A Turkish Custom.

Upon the graves of the dead in the Turkish cemeteries little vessels of water are placed for the benefit of the birds, and some of the marble tombs have basins chiseled out for the same purpose, the superstition being that birds carry messages about the living to the dead and, like everything else in Turkey, are suspected of being spiteful unless something is done to curry their favor.

He Sleeps.

"Has your husband a good ear for music?" asked Mrs. Oldgirl of Mrs. Newed.

"I am afraid not," replied Mrs. Newed. "He seems to think everything he hears played in church is a lullaby."—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

Had Shown Good Sense.

Hewitt—That rich old fool wouldn't let me marry his daughter.

Jewett—Well, he may be rich and old, but he's no fool.—New York Times.

"Force" Food.

We have commenced a series of advertisements, the first of which appears today on page two, for the "Force" Food Co., of Buffalo, N. Y. This is a new cereal food and one of the best on the market. Read what a noted medical writer has to say of "Force" Food:

A prominet medical writer, an Englishman at that, states in a recent book that one of the deplorable results of excessive meat eating in England is the ill-temper which is a chronic moral complaint.

"In no country I believe is home rendered so unhappy," he writes, "and life made so miserable by the ill-temper of those who are obliged to live together as in England. If we compare domestic life and manners in England with those of other countries where meat does not form such an integral article of diet, a notable improvement will be remarked. In less meat-eating France urbanity is the rule of the home; in fish and rice-eating Japan harsh words are unknown and an exquisite politeness to one another prevails even among the children who play together in the streets. I am strongly of the opinion that the ill-temper of the English is caused in a great measure by a too abundant meat dietary combined with a sedentary life."

Of course there's a moral, and this one's easy. If you want to be good-natured don't eat so much meat. Good nature, in the form of many grain foods, is to be found in packages in any grocery. My observation is that "Force," the new wheat and malt cereal, contains the most good-nature. It is so tempting in the first place that it makes you good-natured to think you're eating it and in the second place it has in it every element for sufficient and proper nourishment of the body. Anyone can be good-natured when, in eating something he really likes he knows he's eating something that he really ought.

HICKS-BEACH RETIRES

Veteran British Statesman Follows His Chief, Salisbury and Quits His Post.

NEW PREMIER GOES TO THE HOUSE

Given a Hearty Welcome—Campbell-Bannerman's Warm Personal Tribute a Feature of the Occasion.

London, July 15.—A. J. Balfour was yesterday formally greeted as Great Britain's premier, and the new regime began its work. The momentous change was marked by only one really dramatic incident, namely, the resignation of Sir Michael Hicks-Beach from his post as chancellor of the exchequer. Yet this lack of outward show and public prelude to a new chapter in English history is by no means representative of the disturbance which the sudden transition created among the undercurrents of political life. It is safe to say that Sir Michael Hicks-Beach is only the first of several whose names have figured largely before the public in the last half century and who now will disappear from the political arena.

More Resignations Expected.

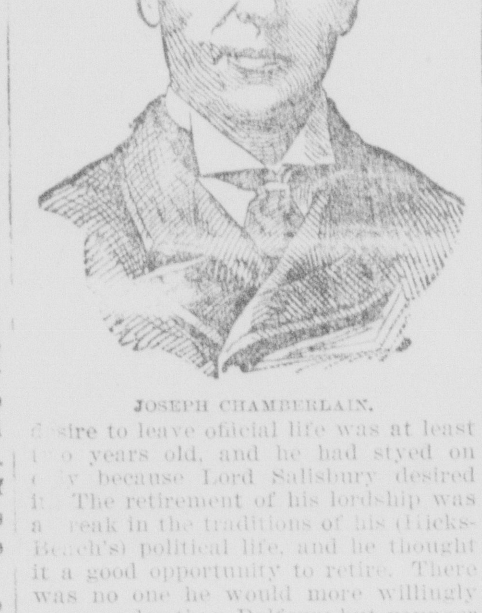

Nothing absolutely definite is yet settled, but the Unionist party expects shortly to hear of the resignations of Earl Halsbury, lord high chancellor; Lord James of Hereford, chancellor of the duchy of Lancaster, and Earl Cadogan, lord lieutenant of Ireland. For Sir Michael Hicks-Beach's place Right Hon. Hanbury, now president of the board of agriculture, is the favorite. In the pending reconstruction—which may not be completed for some time to come—Balfour, much to the delight of the Unionists, will remain the leader in the house of commons and first lord of the treasury, with Chamberlain still in command of the colonies as his first lieutenant.

Promotion for Austen Chamberlain.

On one point the members of the house of commons seem practically unanimous, and that is that Austen Chamberlain, financial secretary to the treasury, will be promoted, a majority mentioning him as likely to succeed Hanbury should the latter take the chancellorship of the exchequer. Friends of Balfour also said he was certain to require the advice in his cabinet councils of his great friend, George Wyndham, now chief secretary for Ireland.

Hicks-Beach Explains His Retirement.

The announcement of the cabinet change was made to the Unionist members of parliament yesterday morning by Balfour in an appropriate speech, in which he regretted that he could not have the help of Hicks-Beach. The latter later declared his desire to leave official life was at least two years old, and he had styed on only because Lord Salisbury desired it. The retirement of his lordship was a break in the traditions of his (Hicks-Beach's) political life, and he thought it a good opportunity to retire. There was no one he would more willingly serve under than Balfour; but younger men should take up the burden. Austen Chamberlain personally addressed Balfour and gave him a message from his father that was pretty nearly affectionate.

NEW PREMIER IN THE HOUSE

Campbell-Bannerman's Eulogy Overcomes Him with Emotion.

Balfour's first appearance in the house of commons as premier was characteristic of the man and of the assembly. From the party meeting at the foreign office the members trooped over en bloc, and shortly after 2 p. m. the house was packed. Both front benches were filled with ministers and ex-ministers except for a vacant place opposite the mace, where Balfour was such a familiar figure. Peers came into the strangers' gallery and leaned expectantly upon the rails. Suddenly the clatter ceased and there appeared from behind the speaker's chair the long, thin figure of the prime minister. From all sides of the house there rose a chorus of "Hear! Hear!"

The members rose and kept up the applause till Balfour moved along the treasury bench, nearly falling over Sir Michael Hicks-Beach's feet, and reached his seat, where he buried his head in a voluminous question paper. He was blushing like a school girl. Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, the Liberal leader, stopped further business by making such a feeling personal reference to Balfour as is seldom heard in legislative bodies, and which was delivered with an emotion that quite unnerved the premier.

When Balfour rose to reply the ovation was renewed, but his voice faltered and he was only just able hesitatingly to declare that he was too overcome to finds words of thanks. After paying a tribute to Lord Salisbury, which was universally commended for its tactful reserve, he sat down and the house was emptied, the members gathering on the terrace and in the lobbies discussing the important features the day had brought forth.

Devonshire to Lead in the Peers.

London, July 15. — In announcing Lord Salisbury's resignation in the house of lords the Duke of Devonshire added that his lordship had also retired from the government leadership in the house of peers and desired that he (the Duke of Devonshire) should take up that position.

MONROE DOCTRINE DISCUSSED

Good Doctrine to Abandon, Says a Harvard Professor.

Chicago, July 15.—The Monroe doctrine and President Monroe were discussed by Prof. Albert Bushnell Hart, of Harvard university, in a lecture at the University of Chicago last night. "Monroe was not the father of the so-called doctrine," said Professor Hart, "and it is doing him too much honor to attribute it to him. It was solely the work of John Quincy Adams, who kept urging Monroe to take the step until he yielded, rather against his will."

The Monroe doctrine, or, as the lecturer called it, the "doctrine of paramount interest," was declared a dead letter. "It is useless to attempt to police all of the American continent," he said, "and we will only get involved in costly wars if we stick to it."

GEN. LLOYD WHEATON RETIRES

He Goes Out of Active Service at the Statutory Age of 64 Years.

Washington, July 15.—Major General Lloyd Wheaton closed his active military career yesterday, having reached the statutory retiring age of 64 years. He is at his home in this country, where he recently arrived from the Philippines. The vacancy caused by his retirement already has been anticipated by the appointment of Brigadier General John C. Bates, now commanding the department of the Missouri at Denver.

In giving orders for the return of General Wheaton to the United States, General Chaffee paid that officer a high tribute.

Three Boys Drown.

Sioux City, Ia., July 15.—Three boys were drowned in this vicinity Sunday afternoon within the space of an hour. At Crystal Lake, Neb., Archie Howesington, aged 16 years, went down in twenty feet of water. In the west branch of the Little Sioux river, near Sloan, Ia., Roy Blair, aged 18, was drowned while trying to swim across the stream. In Wolf creek, near Climbing Hill, Ia., Henry Goodrich, aged 18, was seized with cramps and drowned while swimming.

Choked by a Grain of Corn.

Carbondale, Ills., July 15.—The 5-year-old daughter of O. P. Steed, of White county, is dead from the effects of a grain of corn lodged in the child's larynx during a coughing spell. At play the child swallowed eighteen grains, which were taken from her by a physician. One, however, lodged in the windpipe, with the results noted.

Organized Gang of Thugs.

LaCrosse, Wis., July 15.—An organized gang of horse thieves is working in the western part of this state and eastern part of Minnesota. During the past week as many as six stolen horses have been reported to the authorities here from various parts of this section.

PEACE SHY AT CHICAGO

All Attempts to Settle the Freight Handlers' Strike Seem Doomed to Failure.

RAILWAYS SAY THEY ARE READY

To Take All Freight That Comes, and and That It Is Up the Shippers Now.

Chicago, July 15.—Negotiations for the settlement of the freight handlers' strike came to naught shortly after noon yesterday, and President Curran declared that the strike was still in force. At 3 p. m. President Curran said there would be no more committees sent to confer with the railroad managers. "If the managers wish to negotiate further," said Curran, "they must come to us." Indications that a settlement would be reached continued to be bright until after the general managers had held a meeting in the Monadnock block.

Managers Call on the Shippers.

At their meeting the railway managers remained of the mind that 17 cents is a proper compromise between the 16 cents paid and the 18 cents asked originally by the truckers. This unanimity of opinion among the managers is taken in explanation of the failure of the conferences which followed. Of the managers' meeting F. A. Delano, of the Burlington, said: "We discussed the situation at length. We talked tentatively of the wage problem. We consider that we have performed our full duty to the public. Our freight houses are manned and we are ready to do business. If the men want to go back to work they can do so. It is up to the people who have goods to ship to get them to the freight houses. That is the way we look at the situation."

Why the Shippers Don't Ship.

But that is where the difficulty comes in. Here is a specimen of the safety there is for any one who drives a wagon to deliver goods to the railways: A driver in a light wagon succeeded in delivering two small packages to the Santa Fe. When it became apparent to the striking pickets that he was headed for the warehouse they made a rush for him. A squad of policemen came to the rescue and the driver reached the warehouse in safety. "Better come inside, where you'll be safe," one of the non-union freight handlers advised. Several hours later the wagon still stood empty where the driver had left it. The latter remained in the warehouse, while pickets guarded every avenue of escape.

Gov. Yates Becomes Interested.

Two telegrams received from Governor Yates by F. W. Job, chairman of the state board of arbitration, read as follows: The first—"Tender services of the state board of arbitration in the freight handlers' strike." The second—"Lose no time in tendering impartial services of your board. Complaints are numerous that perishable goods are being lost." On receipt of the second telegram Chairman Job immediately set out to visit the teamsters, the freight handlers and the railway managers. The entire state board of arbitration is in Chicago today.

ANOTHER ATTEMPT AT PEACE

Charge Against Curran by a State Arbitrator—Strike Notes.

At 2 o'clock this morning a conference between the national executive board of the Teamsters' union, Team Owners' association, Freight Handlers' union, Chicago Federation of Labor, and the Truck Teamsters' executive committee resulted in a new proposition which will be presented to the railway managers today. In the new proposition the freight handlers agree to accept the wage schedule as presented July 1 with the following concessions: First, elimination of probation; second, straight time for overtime for all employes who are charged for lost time; third, 17½ cents an hour for truckers.

After the conference had adjourned the officers of the Teamsters' union issued a petition asking the teamsters belonging to two of the local unions to return to work in order to prevent the total loss of several hundred cars of fruit that is lying on the sidings.

The strike reached the rioting stage last evening, and it was only after the police had charged on the crowd repeatedly and arrested eleven men that a semblance of order was restored. Night policemen who were sent with two teams from the Western Electric company to the St. Paul freight house at Carroll avenue and Union street were unable to extricate the drivers from the pocket into which they were forced by angry teamsters. A riot call sent to the stations was responded to by several wagonloads of patrolmen, and after a fierce conflict with the obstructing crowd the wagons were rescued and the drivers, bruised by missiles, were able to reach a place of safety.

Charges of bad faith are made by Secretary Driscoll, of the Chicago arbitration board, against President Curran, of the freight handlers. Driscoll says that is was fully understood night before last that the men were to ask 17½ cents an hour. Later, after the committees had met the managers, it was found that the committees had demanded 18 cents. The men made the demand under the approval of Curran, whose idea was to demand 18 cents and then if the managers objected to come down to 17½. But it had been arranged that only 17½ was to be demanded; this was what the Chicago arbitrators informed the managers.

"That puts us in a nice position before the railroad managers," said Secretary Driscoll, bitterly. "President Curran has broken faith with us and has gone squarely back on his word."

Strikers Win Their Case.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 15.—The Great Lakes Towing company was completely defeated by the United States local steamboat inspectors yesterday. WHAT CHINA MOST NEEDS justment, so as to relieve the country of the great and increasing burden caused by the payment of foreign obligations in high-priced gold, while silver was the only current money. Next in order the country, he said, needed three things—education, railroads and newspapers.

More young Chinese students should study in the United States and Europe, and there should be a system of popular education, he said. Railroads were a strong force in educating the people by bringing them into closer contact; and high-class newspapers were another form of education.

TRAIN THUGS IN COLORADO

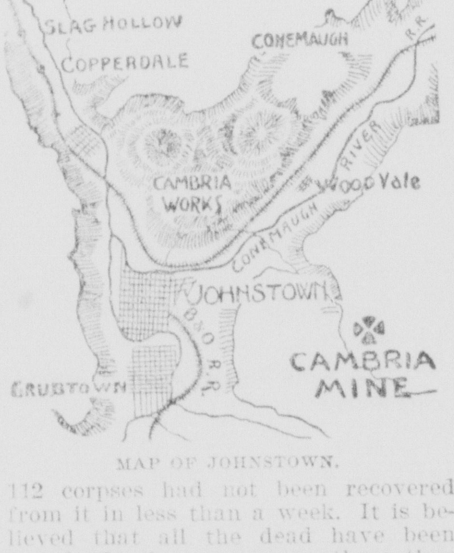

Finding No Money in the Express, They Rob the Passengers.

Denver, Colo., July 15.—General Manager Herbert, of the Denver and Rio Grande, has received the following report of a train robbery that took place in this state yesterday: "Train No. 315 was held up by four masked men at a point known as Mill Switch, two miles east of Chester, at 8:50 a. m. today. They blew open two safes in the baggage car and demolished the sides and roof of the car. The express company advises that no money was lost—the mail car was not molested. All the passengers were ordered to go to the rear of the train and get out onto the ground.

"The robbers then relieved them of their money and jewelry. Many of the passengers threw their money, jewelry and transportation into the grass and rocks. An engine and coach will be returned to the scene with the passengers in order that they may recover their property." The report also says that one robber, almost wantonly, broke the stock of a Winchester over the head of Engineer Ruland, but that the engineer is not seriously hurt.

SOMETHING WORTH KNOWING

There is a Remedy That is Equally Good For Man, Woman, Child and Horse—It Should Be Kept in Every Household and Stable in the World.

Greene's Infallible Liniment is without a rival in the satisfactory treatment of sprains, strains, cuts, bruises, scalds, burns, sores, open wounds, inflammations, swellings, scratches, chaps, galls, colds, sore throat, sore feet, pains, neuralgia, rheumatism, lame backs, stiff necks, etc., in man or beast. It is an honest medicine made to sell on its real merits, to give such satisfaction as to make friends and keep them. Let those who use it tell its story:

"As superintendent of the Fort Dearborn Gymnasium, I have on an average thirty men rubbed down daily. Greene's Liniment is endorsed by myself and attendants as the best we have ever used." Louis Zimmerman.

"I am satisfied that Directly, 2:03¼, would never have been able to start in '99 if I hadn't used Greene's Liniment. It kept his legs sound and clean all season. I also used it on Tommy Britton, 2:08; Giles Noyes, 2:05¼; Sherman Clay, 2:05¾; Lord Roseberry, 2:10¼; I am certain a great deal of the success of these horses was due to Greene's Liniment." Geo. West.

"I have used Greene's Liniment for some time on my driving horses and saddle horses at home, of which I have eight, and I have also used it with great success on running horses owned by me, particularly, however, on Judge Denny, and I have found it of great service. I have a high opinion of your goods and shall never be without same in my stables." Wm. A. Pinkerton.

Greene's Infallible Liniment is equally good for human flesh and for horse flesh. It is useful for the horseman, bicyclist, pugilist, athlete, trainer, farmer, mechanic and housewife. As a household remedy for aches, pains and injuries incidental to every day life in the home it is invaluable. As an emergency remedy for the hurts of childhood it is unequaled and thousands of prudent mothers keep it handy. Once introduced into the home, the stable, the gymnasium or the training quarters, it is ever after kept on hand. A bottle of it is its own best advertisment and all the proof of its utility and merits required.

Druggists keep it or will get it for you if you ask them to. Accept no substitute. There is no liniment that will take its place and do its work, no other like it or "just as good." The makers, J. W. Greene & Co., 17 Van Buren St., Chicago, Ills., to prove its worth will send a large free sample in return for this advertisement and 10c. to cover cost of mailing. Poisoning the System.

It is through the bowels that the body is cleansed of impurities. Constipation keeps these poisons in the system, causing headache, dullness and melancholia at first, then unsightly eruptions and finally serious illness unless a remedy is applied. These little pills do not act violently but by strengthening the bowels enable them to perform their own work. Never gripe or distress. Rowland Bros.

til it is there will be no action in the case. Senor Quesada, the Cuban minister, spent yesterday in one of the suburban resorts, and consequently did not call at the department. It will be for him, if any one, to make complaint.

Then the natural course will to call upon General Bragg for an explanation, and if he admits the authenticity of the quotation, and the Cuban government so desires, he must be relieved. The words ascribed to Bragg—in a letter which some good friend printed—are that one might as well "try to make a whistle out of a pig's tail" as "do anything with these people."

His Sister's Keeper

By Elizabeth Dyke Lewis

Copyright, 1901, by E. D. Lewis

She was only the third lady in the cast of the comic opera, but her voice was improving, and she had youth and a good figure to give her hopes of advancement. She entered into her part with an enthusiasm which overlooked the drafty wings and even the chilly barrenness of her own dressing room. She hated her lodgings in the French quarter in West Twenty-fifth street and always longed to get back to the theater.

She was sitting in her dressing room on Wednesday afternoon, ready for the matinee, which was to begin in ten minutes, when the callboy came to the door.

"Why, surely my watch isn't wrong," she exclaimed, for she was not needed until half past 2. No; only the manager wanted to speak to her. The manager often wanted to speak to her. She came cheerfully forward to see what he wanted. He was standing in his shirt sleeves giving the gas man a dressing about some lights which had ruined the star's costume the night before, but he left his speech in the middle and came to meet her, laying his hand familiarly on her shoulder. He was a big man and rather ugly, but even the chorus girls confessed that he had a way with him. The little singer felt it, too, for she let herself be drawn into the office, and the door shut behind her. Then she gave a fillip to her short skirts and perched on the table.

The manager cleared his throat and went to the point.

"You see, Miss Kennedy," he began, "I've been wanting to give you a lift for some time. I can't bounce Miss Gray, of course. She's been on a good while and is used to it. But after this run I do want you to have something better. Now, here's a thing called 'Liberty Belle' that's bound to make a hit some time, and if you like you can take the score home and try Fair Helen's part on your piano. It was simply made for you." He turned the leaves rapidly, showing her the size of the part and a few of the situations and humming a couple of the songs, while his plump forefinger followed the score. "Now," he said, checking off the points on his finger, "here's the scheme in brief: You're Fair Helen, Stevens is the Duke's son, and I'm your manager, and we go off on the road—Pittsburg, you know, and Cincinnati, and perhaps Chicago if it's all right. And now, before you say anything, I want it to be quite understood that the point of the whole thing, to me at least, is that I'm your manager—see? And now, Miss Kennedy, I'm going to make myself believe that you'll think it over the right way. And I guess it's about time for us both to be on the outside of that door, isn't it?"

He opened the door and let her out ahead of him, and she ran into the wings and talked to the chorus girls till her cue came. She joined absently in their laughter at her own jokes, and all the time she was thinking over the manager's proposal.

It sounded very attractive. She knew that she would stand a better chance of real promotion if she held her position in a good "stock." Yet the idea of a star part and presumably higher salary was alluring in the extreme.

She abandoned her reflections as the time came for her to lead the chorus out and to dance while they echoed responses to her song.

"But that I never do!" her song concluded as she brought both feet together with a martial click and salute.

"Ah! That we never do!" echoed the chorus, and then she had to come farther down and do the last verse over again. She could see over the footlights and even distinguish faces in the first three or four rows of the orchestra. The front row was nearly filled by a party of schoolgirls, with their chaperon, but at the end was a man, who was strangely out of place in that matinee assemblage. She looked beyond him to the old ladies behind and then to the lines of heads in the galleries, but presently she found her glance coming back to him. For a few moments she was tantalized, and then she suddenly remembered where she had met him. It was in quite another life. He could hardly afford to recognize her even if he remembered her, she thought bitterly, and just then his face lighted up, and he stared at her and bowed and smiled in the most friendly way, though he seemed a little uncertain of her returning the salutation. She found a way to do so, however, and when she gave the last whirl to her skirts and run off she knew that he would take her final bow as meant for him.

She joined the others for a chat in the wings till the end of the act, and when she went to her dressing room she found two fine bouquets of Jack's waiting for her. She looked for the cards. Her first bunch was from a man to whom she had sent a box. He was doubtless there—with his wife and children. She must remember to look when she went on again. But the second! She opened her eyes. He had not only spoken to her; he had sent her flowers! Did it mean that there were others in this world who would take her back again still? The manager and his melodramatic adoration seemed suddenly as far away from her as they would have been a year before. She remembered having read a newspaper clipping which had suggested higher than this for her. "Miss Kennedy's abilities," it had said, "are rather above her voice, and it would not be amiss for her to see what she could do in legitimate comedy." Indeed she had been thinking seriously of leaving the operatic stage at the close of the present engagement, perhaps for the drama, perhaps for no stage at all. Who could tell? She lifted the flowers and impulsively hurried off to the manager's room.

"I have come," she said, afraid to stop for breath, lest her resolutions should change, "to refuse your very kind offer, for reasons which I cannot explain, and to return you the books."

She thrust score and libretto into his hands. He stared at her astonished.

"Why, Miss Clara," he exclaimed, "you will at least take till tomorrow to think it over. You will at least try the score. You cannot refuse me—surely you"—

"No," she said firmly, for she would have no more words with this man than she could help. "I am sorry if I disappointed you—sorry if I gave you to understand—but this is final, and I must go! There is my call," she added hastily as she heard the song out on the stage drawing to an end. Then she ran out and stood for an instant in the wings.

"I may repent it afterward," she said to herself, "but I won't if I can help it. It was real nice of him sending me those flowers. I am glad, though, that he'll never know how much they happened to mean to me. He'd think it was too silly! I shan't dare to look at him again."

The star brushed past her with a kind jest and a laugh, and she went on, crying to meet a Strephon in blue satin, who vainly endeavored to wipe away her tears. She was too much occupied with her business to have a fair look at the front seats. After a few explanatory sobs on her part Strephon, with histrionic intuition, seemed to grasp the situation, and they advanced to the footlights together, joining in a duet. The air was familiar to every street boy now, and unless she give it her entire attention each person in the audience would think that he had heard it better done. She dared not glance even once to the spot toward which she was half unconsciously acting all the time, but when she ran out for the last time she thought that a certain lifting of her eyelashes and a saucy shrug of one shoulder just as she kissed her hand in that same direction would be accepted as reparation for her apparently cold treatment. She almost fancied a gleam of gratitude as warm as her own coming toward her from the golden haze of the footlights on the end.

That seat, had she but seen it, was empty. It had been empty since the first scene. The man in a box of the upper tier scarcely remembered that he knew one of the girls on the east. He was engrossed for the present in quite a different sort of young woman—the one for whom he had brought some flowers and whom he had been able to find only after the second act. She was sitting a little behind the rest of her party, and as he leaned over her chair she bent her head back until it almost touched his arm and laughed softly into his eyes at something he had said. There was a charming understanding between them. They had both forgotten that there was any one on the stage.

Some Historical Windows.

In history and literature the window holds a conspicuous place. There is the window in Leven Castle tower through which the wistful eyes of Mary, queen of Scots, strained their gaze across the lonely lake; there is the window in Greenwich palace from which Elizabeth waved her farewells to her brave seamen as they set forth in their tiny "cockboats" to seek a westward path to far Cathay.

There is the window in the tower through which the aged Laud stretched his hands in benediction as Strafford passed onward to his death; there is the window "in Carlsbrook's narrow case," which baffled the unfortunate Charles in his attempt to escape; there is the window in the Louvre from which that other and guiltier Charles witnessed the massacre of St. Bartholomew.

Then there is the window in the narrow Linlithgow street from which Bothwellmaugh shot "the good Earl of Murray," and the window in the High street of Edinburgh whence Argyll watched the chivalrous Montrose borne onward to his scaffold, with never a thought or forecast of what his own fate would be.—London Standard.

A Really Poor Author.

When Dr. Johnson was a resident of Grub street, he made the acquaintance of a poet named Samuel Boyse, whose poem on the Deity and other works had earned him high praise. Boyse could not go abroad to seek work because his clothes were in pawn, so he lay abed with his arms thrust through two holes in the insective blanket, which was the only covering, writing and starving. Johnson raised enough money to get his clothes for him, but two days later Boyse was in bed again, eating a stew of beef and mushrooms purchased by the repawning of his suit. "I might as well eat while I may," he said, "for I must some day starve, whether I will or not."

Ancient Gold.

In olden times gold was obtained abundantly from the rivers of Asia. The sands of Pactolus, the golden fleece secured by the Argonauts, the yellow metal of Ophir, the fable of King Midas, all illustrate the eastern origin of gold. Alexander the Great brought nearly $500,000,000 of gold from Persia. Gold also came from Arabia and from the middle of Africa by way of the Nile. But all of these famous sources of supply were long ago exhausted.

WEAK ON SPELLING.

The Combination Word That Opened Commodore Vanderbilt's Safe.

According to all the traditions, Commodore Vanderbilt, who laid the foundation of the family wealth that has become proverbial, was a man without education, knowing little of the "three R's" and lamentably weak on spelling. He kept to himself the word on which the combination of the office safe was based until sudden sickness prevented his appearing one morning and it became necessary to transfer the secret in order that the day's work might be done without let or hindrance.

The bookkeeper sent to the commodore's house for the word key and received reply that "dog" was the necessary word. But every effort to release the bolts on the "d-o-g" combination failed, and it was necessary to send again to the Vanderbilt home in fear that the old financier might have made a thoughtless mistake. But the messenger was speedily convinced that the mistake was somebody else's when the irascible commodore roared at him: "'Dog,' you dog! 'Dog!' Confound you all for a lot of zanies! Go back—go back to the office and open that safe on 'dog'—'d-o-r-g-e,' 'dog!'"—Philadelphia Times.

Queen Victoria's Way.

The queen's interest in and oversight of public affairs did not cease with the prince's death, although in the first years of overwhelming sorrow it must have been difficult to carry out her conception of duty. All important resolutions were taken by her; the personal notes in The Court Circular were written by her own hand and were seen by no one else. When Sir Henry Ponsonby became the queen's private secretary, she said to him: "Remember this, no advice! I am older than you are and have had more experience." In after years historians will have much to say upon the queen's personal share in the government of her dominions. All her papers have been most carefully preserved and arranged and some day, perhaps, will be accessible to the inquirer. On the other hand there is not a single paper belonging to George III. which is known to be in existence.—Professor Oscar Browning in Century.

A Remedy For Teething Troubles.

For teething, a Surrey "mother of twelve" has an excellent recipe which in her experience has never failed. At the first symptoms the child must be taken out early in the morning and placed upon the back of a donkey to be borrowed for the occasion. Care is required here, for the little patient must sit exactly upon the cross on the donkey's back and have his face to the tail. The mother will then lead the animal slowly forward while she recites the Lord's prayer, at the close of which she should take the baby in her arms, kiss him and say, "God bless him," and his teething troubles will be over.

Oh, why did not our mother know all this? What we might have been spared!—London Tit-Bits.

The Real Inventor of Telegraphy.

Weber was the first who established a permanent workable telegraph line and thereby demonstrated the practical value of the electric telegraph. Weber's house was connected with the astronomical and magnetic observatories by a line over two miles in length. The signals were made by the deviations of the needle of a galvanometer to the right and left and were interpreted according to a conventional alphabet. The use of interrupted or reversed currents did not permit the transmission of more than one or two words a minute, but the speed was increased to seven or eight words by the use of inducted currents.

Too Strenuous For Him.

Mr. Petronius de Hamme, the eminent tragedian, was compelled by the exigencies of the play to carry the heroine up a rocky defile night after night.

Mr. de Hamme was not so sturdy as he used to be, and when the management cast Miss Vera Hevveigh, who tipped the scales at 310 pounds, for the heroine his spirit rose within him.

That night he made one mighty effort to carry her up the rocky defile and then advanced to the footlights. In an apologetic tone he inquired, "Is there a piano mover in the audience?"—W. D. Nesbit in Woman's Home Companion.

Died In Place of a Younger Man.

A charge was made at a wall lined with French infantry. Sergeant McQuade of an English regiment saw two Frenchmen level their muskets on rests against a gap in a bank, awaiting the appearance of an enemy.

Sir George Brown, then a lad of sixteen, started to ascend at the fatal point. "You are too young, sir, to be killed," said McQuade, pulling him back and stepping into his place. He fell dead, pierced with both bullets.

Innocent Girl.

Sarcastic Father—Julia, that young man Smily has been here three nights in succession, and it has been nearly midnight when he left. Hadn't you better invite him to bring his trunk and make his home with us?

Innocent Daughter—Oh, papa! May I? It was just what he wanted, but he was too bashful to ask you. He'll be delighted when I tell him this evening.

Leading Him On.

He—Would your mother let you go to the theater without a chaperon?

She—Not unless I was engaged.—Brooklyn Life.

No Such Place.

"Safety" expresses an idea. It isn't the name of any place on earth.—Boston Journal.

RECORD OF THE PAST.

No Stronger Evicence Can Be Had in Dixon.

Look well to their record. What they have done many times in years gone by, is the best guarantee of future results. If you are with a bad back; any reader suffering from urinary troubles, to many kidney ills will find in the following evidence proof that relief and cure is near at hand.

Mrs. L. S. Shallieger, of 220 West Chamberlain street, Dixon, says:—"In the fall of 1897 when asked to express my opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills sold at Leake Bros. drug store, I told my interviewer that the treatment had cured me of backache which had clung to me so persistently that it became a positive annoyance. I can add to that statement made over four years ago this fact; during the period which has elapsed I have had no occasion to use either Doan's Kidney Pills or any other medicine for my kidneys. I just as cheerfully recommend the preparation today as I endorsed it when it first came to my notice."

A Chinese Proverb.

An attache of one of the legations in Peking at the time when two continents were in a high state of tension was a guest at the Army and Navy club in New York a few evenings since, says Leslie's Weekly. "I had occasion," he said, "to meet Li Hung Chang, who, despite the heavy suspense overhanging his country, seemed to be, to us, painfully cheerful. One of the party present, a man in authority, referred to Li's merriment.

"The interpreter mentioned it to his master, who requested him to make the most beautiful reply I ever heard. 'Tell him,' said the interpreter, quoting his master, 'that the Chinese have a proverb which I commend to all in all conditions: You cannot prevent birds of sorrow flying over your head, but you can keep them from stopping and building nests in your hair.'

"I immediately wrote it down, so I know the quotation is correct."

American "Prudishness."

In the face of foreign criticism and in the face of one's own dismay at existing conditions with regard to divorce, we still sympathize with the retort administered to an alien critic of our people who had declared in private conversation that America seemed to be afflicted with the disease of prudishness. The answer was somewhat in these words (the incident occurred several years ago): "Yes, probably it is true that Americans are prudish; but, considering the revelations that have recently taken place concerning certain circles in London and considering the condition of a good part of the Parisian stage and of French literature, I, for one, am willing that we should pay that price for the knowledge that, on the whole, Americans are the decentest people in regard to the relations of the sexes on the face of the globe."—Century.

The Sun as a Timepiece.

In a Georgia justice court a colored witness was asked to name the time a difficulty occurred.

"Hit wuz in fodder pullin' time, suh," he replied.

"You don't understand me," said the judge. "I mean what time was it by the clock?"

"Dey warn't no clock dar, suh," said the witness.

"Well, by the sun, then?"

"Now," exclaimed the witness triumphantly, "sence you hez come right down ter business I'll tell you plain. Er de sun had been a-shinin' hit would er been 'bout two hours en a half by sun, but ez de sun didn't show his face 'tall dat day I couldn't say fer sartin des what time hit wuz!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Wrists and Temperature.

Actors and actresses say that if one of their number faints cold water is poured on the wrists. The result is always immediate recovery. Athletes engaged in feats of endurance understand the importance of keeping the wrists cool in summer and warm in winter, but the general public goes on wearing tight gloves and heavy cuffs during the dog days and then wonders why it is hot. Taking off one's gloves, especially in church, makes quite a surprising difference in one's temperature. Tight sleeves, above all things, make the wearer hot in oppressive weather.
